A Teacher Professional Development Programme

Improving Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) teaching and learning experiences in Namibia

Teach for ESD is a two-year professional development programme for teachers to build their knowledge, skills and leadership while implementing Education for Sustainable Development.

- Aims to improve the protection of the environment through education.
- Impact driven to bring about meaningful change into schools through teaching practices.

Direct beneficiaries are 240 passionate Namibian teachers, working in teams of two; 120 Schools from all regions;

participants are more than 55% female and some are serving schools for vision and hearing-impaired learners.

Indirect Beneficiaries: estimated 48 000 learners (and 1200 family and friends!)

(estimation based on UNICEF 15th Day Report 2018)

Teach for ESD Activities

Training at our centres

Teachers will experience one of our infamous hands-on ESD trainings for one week, including sustainable living practices such as environmental auditing, solar cooking, water saving, recycling, urban sustainable living and more!

The Toolkit

NaDEET customized ESD learning & resources with theoretical training, implementation guides and the best existing resources for ESD in hard copy or digital on the Teach for ESD flash drive!

Ongoing Support

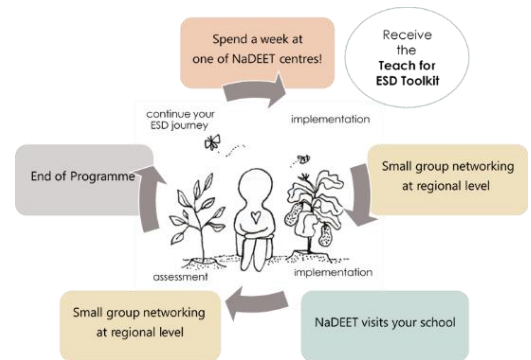

Site Visits and Regional Workshops

to provide follow up training and support throughout implementation.

Focused Implementation & ESD Badges

for monitoring, to create incentive while tracking ESD activities at schools! Top performing teachers will be awarded with exciting educational opportunities!

How can I support this project?

NaDEET still needs additional help to fully fund this programme!
